Re: Objection to Proposed Class Settlement
Doe v. Roblox Corp., No. 3:21-CV-03943WHO (N.D. Cal.)

Dear Judge Orrick,

My name is Jacob Xander Emerson, formerly known as Jacob Alan Henson, my mailing address is 106 East Sixth Street, Suite 900-206, Austin, Texas 78701, my email address is jacob@jacobemerson.me, my telephone number is (512) 730-0625, and my Roblox username is [REDACTED].<sup>1</sup> I am a member of the Settlement Class and received legal notice of the settlement at my old email address, jacob.henson@gmx.us (Exhibit B).

I am writing this letter to object to the Proposed Settlement Agreement on behalf of the Settlement Class because it pays Class Counsel way too much, and does not properly redress the Settlement Class' injury as a result. Two and a half million dollars ($2,500,000) is ridiculous considering that most Roblox users are children. Class Counsel acknowledged as much. See First Amended Comp. ¶ 3-4. I understand that usually Class Counsel in class actions request up to twenty-five percent (25%) of the Settlement Fund and Class Counsel has done so here, but even so, the circumstances call for Class Counsel to take a smaller chunk of the Settlement Fund to properly redress the injury posed to thousands of my fellow class members, who again are mostly children. Levi & Korsinsky (Class Counsel) makes millions upon millions of dollars bringing Class Actions and winning settlements. Class Counsel knows that they are representing mostly children playing Roblox who purchased Robux to spend on virtual items, and they still requested twenty-five percent (25%) of the Settlement Fund, taking more money than they deserve from the children who've been wronged and giving it to themselves, who are usually overpaid attorneys. That is far, far from fair.

As a result, Class Counsel's calculation for someone who spent two thousand five hundred Robux (R$2,500) on moderated items would only get ten dollars ($10) or one thousand Robux (R$1,000).<sup>2</sup> If anything, someone who's spent that much should get all their Robux back plus more for their inconvenience if possible. This is more likely than not a direct result of Class Counsel's outrageous request for two and half million ($2,500,000) compared to their eighteen thousand ($18,000) in actual litigation cost.

Thus, I respectfully request that the Court reject the Settlement and give counsel the opportunity to go back to the Settlement table and work out either a bigger Settlement amount to give Class Counsel their unwarranted paycheck or to cut Class Counsel's paycheck to what is fair and equitable, which in my opinion is around five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) to a million dollars ($1,000,000).

I would greatly appreciate it if the Court would permit me to appear virtually or telephonically at the Final Approval Hearing.

If this objection is to be unsealed by the Court, I would appreciate it if the Court would redact my Roblox username, as I am afraid that Roblox will retaliate against me for filing this objection, and that certain people on Roblox who have been harassing me may find my real-life identity and harass me further. If the Court intends to unseal this objection without redacting my Roblox username, I would appreciate an opportunity to be heard fully before the Court does so.

Sincerely yours,
